

Case Study

The Client: NRS Healthcare
Industry: Health & Social Care
Requirement: Senior Bid Writer

The Client

NRS Healthcare is an established provider of integrated community healthcare services. With over 70 years' experience, they provide a wide range of services, solutions and products to improve people's quality of life and independence. NRS prides itself on providing an exceptionally high-quality customer experience.

Our Requirement

The NRS Healthcare bid team needed to hire a Senior Bid Writer. Without this role, the team were stretched and about to head into an even busier period of work. Due to the Covid-19 pandemic and the highly saturated candidate market, the bid team simply did not have enough time to review all applications whilst navigating their way through the busy bid workload. To ease this pressure, Hannah Wiseman reached out to Bid Solutions to take control of the selection process. Having hired candidates from Bid Solutions previously, and being an experienced Bid Manager, Hannah knew she would receive relevant CVs that suited the team's needs. We rapidly provided NRS with a selection of active and passive candidates, using selection and headhunting skills to ensure that NRS had a choice of suitable CVs for the position. Within a few weeks of the initial engagement, interviews had taken place and their chosen candidate had accepted their offer.

"I was not actively seeking a new position, however after being presented with the opportunity at NRS Healthcare, I could see it was going to be a great career move for me. Bid Solutions provided a great brief on the role and kept me informed through each stage of the process. If you are seeking a new position, I would definitely recommend getting in touch with Bid Solutions to help you on your way."

Emily Russell, Senior Bid Writer

Client Testimonial

"Having worked with Bid Solutions before, I knew that we would receive candidates that met my expectations. It's an important role for us, so we needed to make sure we had the right person on board. I was aware there would be challenges due to the pandemic, but the whole process was very well managed. I received a selection of suitable CVs, interviews were arranged quickly and the oer process went smoothly. I'm now looking forward to having our new Senior Bid Writer on board. I would not hesitate to recommend Bid Solutions to any organisation looking to hire into their bid team."

Hannah Wiseman, Bid Manager at NRS

Bid Solutions is the leading provider of bid recruitment, consulting and training services. As the pioneers of bid recruitment, we have an established network of over 12,000 candidates. With 800 independent bid and proposal contractors and consultants to choose from, we are your go-to partner for all urgent bid and proposal contract requirements. We publish the critically acclaimed Bidding Quarterly magazine and run the largest UK Salary Surveys for the profession. We are experts at recruiting and connecting winners.